

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT OXFORD, ONEIDA COUNTY, IDAHO

VOLUME I. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1880. NUMBER 37.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

CRAWFORD & FISHER,
Law, Land, Mining and Collection Office,
Oxford, Oneida County, Idaho.

WILLIAM CLAWSON, District Attorney
District of Idaho, comprising the counties of Ada, Owyhee, Camia, Osnoda, and Bear Lake.

E. M. C. Timoney,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
Oxford, Oneida Co., Idaho.

INDEPENDENT ASSAY OFFICE.
F. M. BISHOP, ASSAYER,
Office 3 doors north of Salt Lake House,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

J. S. LEWIS,
JEWELRY, WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

PLATING WORKS.
I am supplying...
Corner of Main and Third Streets,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

CLIFT HOUSE,
Head Quarters for Mining Men,
-OF THE-
PACIFIC COAST.

KEENEY HOUSE,
Leading Hotel, Oxford, Idaho.
S. C. EWING, Proprietor.

COMMERCIAL HOUSE,
Headquarters for all Idahoans.
Terms, 50c per Day, Meals 50c.

KEENEY & ZEIGLER,
Proprietors.

S. M. PRESHAW,
UNDERTAKER,
East Side Main Street,
Ogden, Utah.

Orders by letter or telegraph will receive prompt attention.

SELECT MISCELLANY

THE SILENT LIFE.
We lead two lives, the outward seeming fair,
And full of smiles that on the surface lie,
The other spent in many a silent tear,
With thoughts and feelings hidden from the eye.

The weary, weary hours of mental pain,
Unspoken yearnings for the dear ones gone
The wakened heart, yet cradled again,
Make up the silent life we lead alone.

And happy visions, we may never show,
Gild all this silent life with sweet remembrance,
That they will smile like sunbeams on clouds we
Ye life's bright halos for each stormy gloom.

This silent life, we little seek its power
To strengthen us for either good or ill,
Whether we train our thoughts like birds to
Or let them wander whither they will.

This silent life, not those we love may share,
Though they do feel we strive to know them
One smiling number—none may enter there,
And all beneath that eye we do not gaze,
Through all the world may turn from
Us when every secret of our life is laid.

TIED OUT.
He does not who does his best;
Is he weary? No, he is not.
Brothers! I have done my best,
I am weary—let me rest.

After falling off in vain,
Battered, yet to struggle fair;
After falling long to gain
Little good with mickle pain.

Where the beloveds roam free;
Where the wild winds may go;
Where the footpath rustles glad;
Where the brook-loved poplars nod;

Where the young bird sings its note;
Where the old wood thrush sings;
Where the wedding plover sings,
Where the rattle of the rapturous;
Where, at times, the tempest's mad,
Shaking distant sea and shore,
Still will we old Harold's cry,
To be heard by no one more.

THE LEAP-YEAR PRIVILEGE.
The privilege of the ladies choosing their husband is thus explained in a work entitled, 'Love, Courtship and Matrimony,' London, 1866:

'Albeit it has now become a part of the common law in regard to social relations of life that as often as every biennial year doth return the ladies have the sole privilege during the time it continueth of making love unto the men which they do either by words or looks as to them it seemeth the accepted order of things, at least, men will be entitled to the benefit of courtship who doeth in any way treats her proposal with slight or contumely.'

The above seems to establish beyond cavil their right to reverse the accepted order of things, at least, in our four years. From time immemorial there has existed a tradition to the effect that in leap year the customary regulations of courtship may properly be reversed, and offers of marriage proceed from the fair sex to the male objects of their affection.

We do not read that this privilege has ever been taken advantage of to any great extent by the ladies; but the tradition is as strong in the minds of the people as ever, and it bids fair to be transmitted in unimpaired freshness and force to the latest generation. This being the case, it logically follows that there is a peculiar idea of the inherent fitness of the right, otherwise it would have died out ages ago, if there were not deep down in the human heart a conviction that the ladies have some natural rights in regard to the choosing and wooing of a partner for life.

Whether they think best to exercise the privilege is altogether foreign to the question of right. Were it not for this feeling this leap year tradition had long since been forgotten.

All nations have their folk-lore; persons and places are invested with powers which inspire the ignorant peasantry with dread, and cause them to shun those places. There is a striking similarity all the world over between the

POPULAR LEGENDS AND TRADITIONS.
Of different nations. They are re-produced with slight differences of circumstance and place to suit the different localities. Dr. Mackenzie, who seems to have given considerable time to ferreting out the origin of folk-lore, has a very interesting chapter on the subject in his 'Bits of Blarney.' Washington Irving has localized several legends as American. William West, who has long since been traced to a German origin. Some years ago a supplement to the 'Thousand and One Nights,' containing an Arabian tale called the Sage Heyzar, was published at Paris.

The translator noted the curious fact that this oriental story contained many incidents exactly similar to passages in the life of Aesop. Sixteen pages of details of a 'vill made by Heyzar' are the same word, with the account of a like visit made by Aesop. The Arabian Nights Entertainment' (which have charmed us all in youth, and rarely fail to delight us when we return to them in maturer years) is a full of such stories, illustrating the sanguinary character of Eastern belief and practices. Who among us can not recall the scenes of youth, when, gathered around the blazing hearth, we have listened to some weird story or watched with bated breath the hero of some 'Hallow-eve' charm? These were the days of happiness, and of course every rural maiden had a sure, infallible charm for telling the future husband. On the eve of the New Year the anxious damsel prepared for sleep by pinning to her pillow five long leaves, one at each corner and one in the middle. If she dreamed of her sweetheart, she was sure to marry him before the end of the year, but to make it a dead sure thing, the candidate for matrimony must take out the yolk and fill its place with salt. Just before going to bed she must eat the egg, salt, shell and all, and neither speak nor drink after it. If that wouldn't insure her a vivid dream there surely can be no virtue in charms. And in this connection it may be proper to remark, the more I investigate the subject and ponder over the thousand and one charms by which girls may peep into the future and solve to them) the most interesting question of their lives, the more deeply am I impressed with the conviction that great injustice is done to woman by denying her the privilege which tradition gives her during leap year. For of all women she is most to be pitied who has a hesitating lover, who boggles about 'popping the question'! He is worse than a bold one. How perfectly satisfactory was the conduct of that brave old Puritan who rode up to the door of his girl's choice, and, having desired her to be called out to him, said: 'Rachel, the Lord hath sent me to marry thee!'

When the girl answered with equal frankness, 'The Lord's will be done. In a blessing to the household is such a woman, one whose spirit is not affected by wet days or hills disappointed.

As women have not to any great extent availed themselves of their privilege in 'popping the question,' we are unable to say how they would do, but it is safe to say they could scarcely do worse than many men have done, as the following will prove: An Irish girl who was very anxious that her scatter-brained brother should not be refused by a young Englishwoman with whom he was

DESPERATELY IN LOVE, implored him to propose with the seriousness becoming the occasion.

He avowed he would behave as if he was acting as chief mourner at his father's funeral, and actually took his lady-love after church to see the family vault, and therein a squallid lay her bones beside his bones.' It is enough to say she agreed.

A very neat way is for the gentleman, after dancing a number of times with a young lady, to say: 'If ever he became a Benedict he would like his wife to look exactly like and dress precisely as she does.' This may be a proposal or not. When, however, a shy man, having got his mother to help him, says to the beloved one with a tremulous gasp, 'Won't you do the thing my mother asked for there is no doubt about his wanting her for his wife. More than one proposal has been made by underscoring the lines in the marriage service, "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" and passing the book and pencil during the sermon to the favored one; and it sometimes, oftener than not, comes back with a faint but still visible stroke under the 'I will.'

A young man of a poetical turn sends the following to a coquetish maid: "Oh! lovely maid, thou art the fair slave in all Ovid's mans; Those charms to win, with all my empire I would gladly part, One kiss I send, to pierce like fire thy too reluctant heart."

It may be interesting to the young ladies who are not already a mare of the important fact that Leap-Year empowers them to do something more than

FOR THE QUESTION.
Notes and Queries for 1856 contain the following: "If a young lady should so far forget herself as to suggest a union between herself and a bachelor acquaintance, who should be unwilling to decline her proposal, she could thereupon demand from him the gift of a new silk dress. But to claim this dress with propriety she must at the same time be the wearer of a scarlet petticoat, which or the lower party of which, she must exhibit to the gentleman, who by the law of Leap-Year, is bound to present to the lady a silk dress to cover the scarlet petticoat, and manage her displeasure at the rejection of her proposal."

This item of feminine folklore may prove exceedingly useful to our male readers in putting them on their guard during the year. For it is not probably without a determined significance that the wearing of red petticoats is made one of the chief novelties of ladies' dress during the Winter season. In fact, it may reasonably be inferred that the ladies' law of leap-year is about to be neglected upon the gentlemen in its most oppressive silk dress form.

From the above it can readily be seen that those vacillating bachelors who have managed for years to steer clear of Hyacin's toils, will be made to play or pay. It is, indeed, wonderful how many have so long managed to bid defiance to the many charming women who have, year after year, shown with dazzling brilliancy in the magnificent entertainments of the gay Capital; some of them rivaling in beauty the famous Agnes Sorel, whose beauty was so striking that it caused Henry II., King of France, to tremble when first he beheld her.

From a careful consideration of the various dangers arising from this 'leap-year privilege,' I am inclined to think Mr. Meggie's advice to the heads is worthy of imitation, and that whenever we see a young lady 'in full rig' with a scarlet petticoat, coming down the street, we shall show our best discretion by turning and running away.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.
The Hay investigation is unearthing more and more credence.

Gov. Davis of Maine wants the late election unoppressed investigated.

The college of Propaganda, Rome, will give 10,000 lire to the Irish relief fund.

The Dallas (Texas) court house has been seized a double part in the fire. Many valuable papers destroyed; incendiary. Loss $50,000.

Adolph Borie, ex-secretary of the navy, died at his residence yesterday morning, aged 75. He had been in bed hours for a long time.

Gen. Roberts, at Cahoon, writes to London, saying that nobody was executed unless convicted of participating in the attack on the British residency.

Double-Dealing.
New York, Feb. 5.—The Sun's Washington special says Carl Schurz has been acting a double part in the official melodrama which has ended with the removal of Commissioner Hayt. In a letter to Fisk on Feb. 2d, he denies that he has said that Fisk's accusations had nothing to do with Hayt's removal. As a matter of fact, Schurz positively asserted, on the day following, to Gen. Fillmore, that the investigation had been proved. More recently he has written to Fisk, denying that he had said that Fisk's accusations had nothing to do with Hayt's removal. Schurz knew at this time that Hayt had sent his son under an assumed name to buy a silver mine on a Government reservation.

He also knew that the exposure of this fact was necessary to the public relations and charges.

The Grant Endorsement.
New York, Feb. 5.—A Grand special to the Evening Post says the result of the Pennsylvania Convention has been endorsed by the Republicans here with some degree of cord.

Outspoken Grant men approve and are in favor of the New York Convention following the example. They say that the action of the Harrisburg Convention shows that Pennsylvania is for Grant and that will, if confirmed, carry that State with it.

The more conservative Republicans are reluctant to criticize the action of the Convention, Maine men predict trouble in the New York Convention if the attempt is persisted in to instruct the delegation in favor of Grant.

Holiday's Claims.
Washington, Feb. 4.—The Senate claims committee by a vote of eight against one, decided to recommend the passage of a bill to pay Ben Holiday's claim of over $500,000 for losses sustained by him while carrying the overland mail to California by reason of the changes of route and Indian depredations.

Nominations.
Washington, Feb. 4.—The President has nominated Alex. C. Wylie, of Louisiana, Surveyor of customs for the district of Louisiana; Edgar W. Mann, of Wyoming, Register of the Land Office at Cheyenne; James L. Fawcett, of Kansas, Indian Inspector.

A New Department.
Washington, Feb. 4.—The House committee on agriculture, with one dissenting vote, accepted the report of the sub-committee in favor of the bill presented by Aiken as a substitute to the bill making the Department of Agriculture an Executive Department. The chairman of the sub-committee was instructed to report his bill to the House with favorable recommendation for its passage. The bill will present the ministry report.

Territorial Legislation.
Washington, Feb. 4.—The House committee on Territories agreed today to report favorably the House bill introduced by Delegate Ainslie of Idaho, which empowers the United States Marshal of Idaho to employ at hard labor all the prisoners convicted and sentenced to be held in the prisons of said Territory. It provides that the proceeds of said prison labor shall be paid subject to the order of the Attorney General and be devoted to defray the expense of the prisons of said Territory. The bill authorized to meet complaints on the part of the people of the Territory that heretofore they were subjected to meet all the expenses of their prisons while the Government received and retained the proceeds of their prison labor.

The committee also agreed to report favorably the bill introduced in the House by Delegate Otero of New Mexico, authorizing the Legislative Assemblies of Territories to provide for the care and custody of their prisoners.

Terminus U. & N.
Notes by a Special Correspondent.

SPORTS AND FASHIONS IN THE LAND OF SNOW.
TASSEL, V. S. N. R. R. Idaho, February 7, 1880.

Mr. Brown—Everything in this city of snowy looks is very quiet. Nothing to do and plenty of time to do it in. No one thinks of going out about 11 o'clock in the day, and a stronger average before that time would think the place deserted.

The boys and girls have organized a skating society to meet on Hill Street on the 27th. The question now under discussion is whether it is necessary to pay blackmail or to get around all the old-time folks are in the former; while the single ones argue in favor of the latter. It appears all the same to be decided by the boys. This was a good ball game last week, at which every body was present. Mr. C. H. Holt, was the prevailing spirit of the occasion, besides being the most handsome lady, but to let was far surpassed, and elicited the admiration of all the girls and the envy of the ladies. Daniel's up till daylight did appear. The supper was excellent, the music by Messrs. Miller, and Hill was quite ample. The average entertainment was a grand success. We also have a singing school, and a band, under the management of Mr. Jack Patton, the gentle giant's representative.

The excellent Mrs. Taylor, the late night lecturer, who always as the 'Sweetest Angel' at these meetings. Mrs. Tom Warren, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Fawcett, and Mrs. Miller, were all present. They all have very fine voices, and have magnificent soprano voices. They certainly have their own style, but not so good as the best of getting married, and making night sessions with a lot of evening songsters.

Charles Taylor, and Daniel Taylor, are both in the section.

Tom Warren, D. H. and J. E. Hatch of N. W. Co. are the only ladies.

Mrs. 'Rachel,' and 'Kemp' also are both in the section. They are both in the section. They are both in the section.

The above seems to establish beyond cavil their right to reverse the accepted order of things, at least, in our four years. From time immemorial there has existed a tradition to the effect that in leap year the customary regulations of courtship may properly be reversed, and offers of marriage proceed from the fair sex to the male objects of their affection.

We do not read that this privilege has ever been taken advantage of to any great extent by the ladies; but the tradition is as strong in the minds of the people as ever, and it bids fair to be transmitted in unimpaired freshness and force to the latest generation. This being the case, it logically follows that there is a peculiar idea of the inherent fitness of the right, otherwise it would have died out ages ago, if there were not deep down in the human heart a conviction that the ladies have some natural rights in regard to the choosing and wooing of a partner for life.

Whether they think best to exercise the privilege is altogether foreign to the question of right. Were it not for this feeling this leap year tradition had long since been forgotten.

All nations have their folk-lore; persons and places are invested with powers which inspire the ignorant peasantry with dread, and cause them to shun those places. There is a striking similarity all the world over between the

POPULAR LEGENDS AND TRADITIONS.
Of different nations. They are re-produced with slight differences of circumstance and place to suit the different localities. Dr. Mackenzie, who seems to have given considerable time to ferreting out the origin of folk-lore, has a very interesting chapter on the subject in his 'Bits of Blarney.' Washington Irving has localized several legends as American. William West, who has long since been traced to a German origin. Some years ago a supplement to the 'Thousand and One Nights,' containing an Arabian tale called the Sage Heyzar, was published at Paris.

The translator noted the curious fact that this oriental story contained many incidents exactly similar to passages in the life of Aesop. Sixteen pages of details of a 'vill made by Heyzar' are the same word, with the account of a like visit made by Aesop. The Arabian Nights Entertainment' (which have charmed us all in youth, and rarely fail to delight us when we return to them in maturer years) is a full of such stories, illustrating the sanguinary character of Eastern belief and practices. Who among us can not recall the scenes of youth, when, gathered around the blazing hearth, we have listened to some weird story or watched with bated breath the hero of some 'Hallow-eve' charm? These were the days of happiness, and of course every rural maiden had a sure, infallible charm for telling the future husband. On the eve of the New Year the anxious damsel prepared for sleep by pinning to her pillow five long leaves, one at each corner and one in the middle. If she dreamed of her sweetheart, she was sure to marry him before the end of the year, but to make it a dead sure thing, the candidate for matrimony must take out the yolk and fill its place with salt. Just before going to bed she must eat the egg, salt, shell and all, and neither speak nor drink after it. If that wouldn't insure her a vivid dream there surely can be no virtue in charms. And in this connection it may be proper to remark, the more I investigate the subject and ponder over the thousand and one charms by which girls may peep into the future and solve to them) the most interesting question of their lives, the more deeply am I impressed with the conviction that great injustice is done to woman by denying her the privilege which tradition gives her during leap year. For of all women she is most to be pitied who has a hesitating lover, who boggles about 'popping the question'! He is worse than a bold one. How perfectly satisfactory was the conduct of that brave old Puritan who rode up to the door of his girl's choice, and, having desired her to be called out to him, said: 'Rachel, the Lord hath sent me to marry thee!'

When the girl answered with equal frankness, 'The Lord's will be done. In a blessing to the household is such a woman, one whose spirit is not affected by wet days or hills disappointed.

As women have not to any great extent availed themselves of their privilege in 'popping the question,' we are unable to say how they would do, but it is safe to say they could scarcely do worse than many men have done, as the following will prove: An Irish girl who was very anxious that her scatter-brained brother should not be refused by a young Englishwoman with whom he was

The Idaho Enterprise, THURSDAY, FEB. 12, 1880.

Gen. John B. Hawley at present assistant secretary of the Treasury is a prominent candidate for Governor of Illinois.

There is no better material out of which to make a good governor, to be found in that rich state, so far as our personal knowledge goes.

Gov. Brayman and the Ada county Grand Jury.

The grand jury of Ada county seems to be inclined to worry Gov. Brayman on matters pertaining to his official duties.

We are of the opinion that that grand jury is out of legitimate business and is very anxious to do something to mean, to draw attention to their affairs.

Republican Central Committee.

The Boise city Republicans, in an editorial, headed "Country and City," charges the existence of a "corrupting" influence in Boise city, who have long time ruled this country.

It is not personally cognizant of corruption in the Republican party of Idaho, and believe that harmony and patriotic impulses alone should guide and control its efforts for the good of Idaho.

While the good citizens ladies have organized a Sabbath school during Mrs. L. J. Fisk superintendent.

OUR CITY SCHOOL.

For some days past there has been a disturbance brewing in the city school which culminated in the board of trustees having to perform an unpleasant duty, i. e. that of expelling three or four of the older scholars, on Tuesday last.

Expulsion is a very bad thing for the scholar and a disgrace to a respectable and sensible minded parent, that can never be effaced, and yet, in this case it seemed to be the only alternative left to the board of trustees.

These offending pupils are old enough to appreciate the advantages and necessity of an education, and they certainly know that the scholar in school must obey the teacher implicitly in all things, if they would have such order in school as will allow scholars to study their lessons.

There are many things in connection with this affair that deserves to be condemned publicly, but which would only add that much more disgrace to the parties connected with the affair.

We cannot however omit mentioning the inexpressible and unjustifiable assault that was made upon the teacher Mrs. White on Monday last, or hesitate to publish the names of the offending scholars, Dimmock, Cooper and his two sisters Frances and Elvira. These three persons are old enough to know better, and although they were acquitted by the jury before whom they were tried on account of the unwillingness of the witnesses testify, one in particular who ought to have been severely handled by the justice for his contumacy.

Still we look upon the conduct of these persons and we believe it is in the general opinion, as deserving of most severe reprobation.

The trustees after their trial notified the offenders that they would not be permitted to re-enter the school.

Washington Territorial Convention, San Francisco, Feb. 9.—The Republican Central Committee, of Washington Territory, have elected Thos. F. Minor and Thos. H. Brents delegates to the National Convention; alternates, Geo. W. Seward and James A.

Personal Points.

H. O. Harkness Esq. started for Washington D. C. last week.

Alonso Patton is able to hobble around once more with his sprained leg.

We understand Sheriff John S. Watson has gone to St. Louis Mo. on a visit to old friends.

Before his departure, he appointed our genial and popular vintner, A. Burnley Rich Esq. acting and deputy sheriff. No letter or selection could have been made, or which would have met with more general approval.

Not Guilty.

Aaron Leek, arrested with Charles Kellogg on the charge of stealing an overcoat, some days ago, was pronounced not guilty by the jury that tried the case.

Petit Larceny.

An individual known as Ed Brockway who lives at or near Stockton, one day last week, while Mr. John Hurst was down in his cellar, slipped behind the bar and robbed the bill of $475.

Seeing that there was no loophole out of which he could escape from the meshes of the law, he pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing, whereupon the justice fined him $20.00 for "fun" and costs, amounting in all to about $35.00.

Not guilty.

Legal Notices.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

Not guilty.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

Legal Notices.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

Legal Notices.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

NOTICE OF HOMESTEAD PROOF.

Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and secure final entry thereof before the Probate Judge of Oneyda county, Oneyda, at said city Idaho, on March 10, 1880.

Advertisements.

F. AUERBACH & BRO., 55 East Temple Street, Salt Lake City.

Importers and Jobbers of FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS.

GENTS & BOYS CLOTHING, do BOOTS & SHOES, do HATS AND CAPS, do FURNISHING GOODS.

Ladies & childrens shoes & slippers, do Cloaks and Drapings, do Furs and Underwear.

Fancy and Staple Notions, Blankets, Rubber goods, &c., &c.

Largest stock west OF CHICAGO.

We compete with any market East or West.

Orders promptly filled and honorable treatment guaranteed.

Established in 1864. F. AUERBACH & BRO.

ROWELL'S Furniture Store, OXFORD, IDAHO.

Bedsteads, Tables, Lounges, Bureaus, Mattresses, Mirrors, Chromos, Window Curtains, Gas Fixtures, Feathers, Corncases, &c., &c.

At City Prices!

Orders for WHOLE SALES promptly filled.

Call and examine my stock. WM. ROWELL, Oxford, Idaho.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REBELLION.

See the full and complete list of GENERAL MERCHANDISE, consisting of DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, Boots and Shoes, Clothing, GLASSWARE, TINWARE, NOTIONS, &c., which will be sold AS LOW AS THE LOWEST.

Special bargains to CASH PURCHASERS! Extra Good Goods arriving daily! Parties wishing to purchase will do well by calling and examining goods, and especially prior, before buying elsewhere.

Special Agent for the RENOWNED LA BELLE WAGON, Agent for the CELEBRATED ENAMEL LAMPS, (which are supplied in any style or color).

W. M. F. FISHER, Oxford, Oneyda Co. Idaho.

JOB PRINTING.

The "Enterprise" office prepared to do all kinds of JOB PRINTING in the most style, and at reasonable rates.

JAMES GALE, Wholesale and Retail Dealer and Manufacturer of Household Furniture!!

Can furnish a House complete in the LATEST STYLE, at the shortest notice.

Send Your Orders AT ONCE!

Those wishing to replenish their stock of household glass-ware—LOW PRICES.

A complete Household Set, only $20.00. Extension Tables, valuet only $1.75 per foot!

Remember James Gale, The Furniture Dealer, Main Street, OGDEN, UTAH.

P. R.—This is private, and is not to be published; but if you tell him you saw this advertisement in the "Enterprise," you'll see money in 30.

Boyle & Co., MAIN STREET, OGDEN, UTAH.

Office Furniture, ALL KINDS constantly on hand, and Prices always

BED ROCK!

Picture Frames and Mirrors, Bed Lounges, Bed Springs, Women Wire Mattresses from $5.00 up; LOUNGES from $15.00 up; BED LOUNGES from $25.00 up. Orders solicited from the reads-on.

Bed Rock Prices.

PEOPLE'S STORE!!

The undersigned informs his patrons and the public generally that he has now IN STOCK a full and complete line of GENERAL MERCHANDISE, consisting of DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, Boots and Shoes, Clothing, GLASSWARE, TINWARE, NOTIONS, &c., which will be sold AS LOW AS THE LOWEST.

Special bargains to CASH PURCHASERS! Extra Good Goods arriving daily! Parties wishing to purchase will do well by calling and examining goods, and especially prior, before buying elsewhere.

Special Agent for the RENOWNED LA BELLE WAGON, Agent for the CELEBRATED ENAMEL LAMPS, (which are supplied in any style or color).

W. M. F. FISHER, Oxford, Oneyda Co. Idaho.

JOB PRINTING.

The "Enterprise" office prepared to do all kinds of JOB PRINTING in the most style, and at reasonable rates.

