SELECTED MISCELLANY

LIFE.
Short days spring, with many smiling flowers and verdant tresses; Ere we understand our feelings
On the open grass we lie, Our feet and hands are joined,
Changeful ever is the world,
Joy shall never give us rest, Sorrow of the mind plans for living Flung bids us rest a try,
But their most faithful never Hings us that for which we sigh, Young, we find pleasure death-like,
A heart-rending world-land,
So it fades, and sorrow follows,
On the shore water we stand,
We know not the bright morning
On the water's edge, Joy soon past, or lightly gulf-Life on earth is so vain,
All what we long for is fading,
In a constant struggle to find,
How the wounded soul may comfort, Never tears or health give find,
Then, when striving close on them,
We see in their own heart, Only peace and joy, which Gather about their heart,
Then, the words of life forgetting,
From its strain and grief free,
We say but and to say follow,
Like the tender sea-bird.

CORRESPONDENCE

GENTLE VALLEY.
Mr. Editor—April the 10th find us enjoying a big snow storm, not withstanding the predictions we have had of an early spring.

Our school closed the 9th of April, we spent the afternoon in hearing discussions, essays and songs. Quite a number of our citizens favored us with their presence. The scholars attended very regularly, during the interim, the average attendance per day was twenty or thirty scholars.

Messrs. Cooper and Hale have just returned from Cache Valley, where they have been for four, groceries, etc. The roads are bad, but people must have the valley or send off if they wish to see a thing.

Several of our citizens have gone to Blackfoot for their stock, which they have been having with red there.

Mr. Lee Wright who spent the winter at Blackfoot, has returned home. Our valley is still improving several new houses are being built on the east side of the river. Some of the citizens in the upper end of the valley are taking a water ditch out of Bear River, for the purpose of irrigating their ranches which they have lately taken up. A.A.

THE RAILROAD TO GUAYMAS.

Mexican Sentiment—Manifest Destiny and Future King of the Mountains Intelligently Discussed.

The American railroad enterprise in Mexico is a subject that excites a good deal of comment in the Mexican circles in this city, and is a topic of no small interest among American merchants and others who are engaged in trade and speculation with the sister republic. A chronological report recently reviewed a number of prominent Mexican railways, and among them was the Pacific and Mexican, which was the first to be completed. It was the first of its kind in the country, and its completion was a great event. It was the first of its kind in the country, and its completion was a great event. ## STATE OF IDAHO.

VIEW OF A SHIPPING MERCHANT.

William Schellien, of the firm of Schellien & Schell, the principal shipping agency here in this State, has just returned from a visit to the State of California, and although a Mexican birth is a thorough Californian in his habits and modes of doing business, he has not been here a number of years. He answered all questions in the most practical business way, by Rep. Mr. Schellien, what effect will the completion of the railroad to Guaymas have upon the commerce of San Francisco?

AN EDITOR'S GLOOMY VIEW.

The next gentleman conversed with was Fredrick Epsom, editor and proprietor of the "Enterprise," an one of the best papers of the State. Mr. Epsom was found at his editorial desk, and he was very much interested in the subject of the railway. He was very much interested in the subject of the railway. Nice Country For A Nervous Editor.

Austria is a nice country for the newspaper business. There is a great field there for a energetic and enterprising journal...

It was not only safe for the editor, but also saved the salary of a pro-reformer. The Vienna Presse Press went with a little misfortune of this kind no longer ago...

Our morning edition of to-day was confiscated by the Government. According to official information this was on account of a letter from our Mr. M. J. Corcoran...
