WILD TWO DOLLARS.

John Hanson, a negro, was tried and convicted at the Court house in the early part of the present month, for vagrancy, and ordered by the Court to be sold to the highest bidder for the term of one year, which was accordingly done, and he was knocked down to Mr. Zahla, a vault cleaner, for $2. The sale was advertised in the Courier, and a large crowd of people gathered to witness the same. A white man, named E. Meak, was convicted of vagrancy at the same time that the jury found Hanson guilty, and he is to be disposed of in the same way. The last sale for vagrancy that took place in Emmerville, was that of a "Cape Verde" Cooness, in 1847 or 1848, and who afterwards became a wealthy and respected citizen.

The local of the Ogden Pilot, who by the way is a lively knight of the lead pencil, seems to be afraid of our Mercurial Cosmos. Don't let it disturb your dreams, my good boy. These girls are all too smart to be inveigled into the matrimonial noose with a newspaper man. They know too well which side of their bread has the butter on it, and don't intend to throw themselves away on nothing, or to take in the shape of a man. These lady correspondents all want men that will make good husbands, and that let all newspaper fellows out to begin with.

The argument thinks the Chinese question did not figure largely in the late election in Oregon. We do not think it figured as well. The Republican carried the State of Oregon in the late election by about 3,000 majority. The Chinese question does not trouble the people of Oregon much. They, as a rule, do their own work, and get along without the Mongolian. If the people of California would do the same, they would not long be troubled with the Chinese question.

A woman, South Chicago, Miss Susie Remington, sloped one day of this week with another man, giving as her reason that her husband was an habitual drunkard. If her husband was a drunkard, as she claims, she did exactly right in leaving him and going off with a sober man. If there is no plague and destroyer of a woman's happiness in this life, it is a drunken, beastly, worthless husband. Drunkards have no rights that decent people are bound to respect.

Jim Halworth, who recently succeeded at Butte, Montana, left a copy of paper requesting the administration of his estate to five years subscription due the New North West.—E. H.

If some of our two-year subscription creditors would send and request the administrator of their estate to pay up, we would gladly write their obituary.

Some voters, here in prohibition, and a majority of about 30,000 is recorded in favor of the amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture or sale of any kind of intoxicating beverages within this State.

Free transportation of freight to and from the Exposition has been granted by all the Idaho stage lines, and by the Union Pacific Railway company from Blackfoot to Denver.

The St. Louis Evening Chronicle, following in the footsteps of the Enterprise, and has started a matrimonial bureau.

There was a bill introduced in the House, Monday, to abolish the State of Nevada and attach it to California.

NOVATE OF JULY.

How the Patriotic People of Oxford Observed It.

It will be long before the inhabitants of Oxford and vicinity forget the 4th of July, 1882. Early in the morning three large gaudy guns let off a salute, and the glorious 4th had arrived, and at the signal of a thousand smaller firearms proclaimed it. About 7 o'clock the farmers and their families began to arrive, and by ten o'clock there were fully 6,000 persons in town. A few minutes past 10 o'clock a procession formed on the public square and paraded the streets, and then counter-marched down Harkness to Main street, and thence to the speaker's stand on the square, where they halted to listen to some patriotic speeches by our local orators, and to hear the great Declaration of Independence read. There were six speeches made, but space forbids publishing them, and the Declaration of Independence was read by Mr. McManama, which was well done. The poet was Charles Thompson, who recited a poem entitled "Grandfather's Days," which was recited with round after round of applause.

After the speaking a grassed place was erected on the square and a five dollar bill placed on top. About 10 o'clock the young men gathered about it and attempted to climb to the top, but failed miserably. At last a young red-headed fellow succeeded in reaching the top, and was carrying a gold piece, came back to the earth like a shot.

The next attraction was a grained pig, which created much curiosity. The speaker's stand about 2 o'clock, and it started off up Main street at a twenty gallop, with a crowd of men and women following. It ran up Main street to Harkness avenue, and up Harkness avenue to Summit street. On Summit street a young rider caught it by the ear, and held on like grim death for a quarter of a block, when he was compelled to let go by the pig making a sudden lurch and running among a crowd of ladies who had gathered to witness the fun. One of the ladies which caught one of his hind legs, which had been overlooked in the greasy process, and held him fast until help arrived and the pig was secured.

The next thing on the program was a rich man, and he was the most demure-looking man any one ever laid eyes on, and one would think it would not even raise his head to kick if he were called upon to give a testimonial. He was the premium offered the first person who would ride him, and a younger stepped forth who said that he would ride him in the place, and thought that he might as well make that quarter. He mounted the animal and got squarely seated; the mule took a few steps and about a distance of upward, and landed the boy on the ground about twenty feet ahead. One after another tried him but he got them all off. At length a young lady, the daughter of a horse-trainer hereabouts, mounted him, and the mule found his master, and the young lady yielded the reins, which had in the meantime, swelled to three dollars and a half.

The next entertainment was a sack race. Eighteen boys, tied up in gunny-sacks, prepared to make the race, the distance being one block, for a purse of five dollars in gold. They were placed in position on the corner of Summit and Main streets, and a space was opened in the crowd, which had gathered to witness the sight, wide enough for the boys to run in. Mr. Bohm gave the word, and all the boys started off well. When about half the distance, there were only four boys left to finish the race. They kept pretty well together until within a few rods of the goal, when one of the boys went ahead so rapidly that he started a sensation of something being wrong, and an examination revealed that he had his feet neatly covered with a piece of gunny-sack, and his feet was on the ground. He received a lecture on cheating, and was allowed to depart. It was undecided which of the other three had reached the goal first, so the purse was divided between them.

It being now past 5 o'clock, the people began to leave for their homes, although many stopped in town to witness the pyrotechnic display to night, and which was well worth their time, as it was a grand affair.

The only thing on the program which did not take place, was a horse-racing, everybody saying it was too warm to run their horses, especially when they had to work the next day, in consideration, we hope, the horses will appreciate.

We did not see a drunken man during the whole day, although the saloons were open and invitingly decorated. Another thing we noticed was that not a single man offered to bet on the result of any of the entertainments, which indicates that a gambler would be likely to starve in this section.

At night all the streets were brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and for two miles down the String it was almost as bright as day. Guns, rockets, roman candles and fire crackers, was to be seen and heard every second during the day and night.

A ball was given in the evening in the new Opera House, which was a grand success. Fully five hundred people were in attendance during the evening, and they all enjoyed themselves hugely until early the next morning.

Taking all in all, the 4th of July, 1882, in Oxford, was a grand success, and all patriotic men and women can sleep in peace, knowing that this part of the United States is loyal and true.

LOCAL NOTES.
Isaac V. Nash is musical director of one of the Sabbath schools of Franklin.

Mr. McManama, one of the solid men of Gentle Valley, gave us a call this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drury and their two boys are spending a few days at Soda Springs.

Lieut. Sombach, Mrs. Babe and Mrs. Cossell, returned from Salt Lake Tuesday morning.

Judge Morgan and family are enjoying themselves at that famous watering place, Soda Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Strang, daughter and son, left here Monday morning to spend Independence day in Malad.

Mr. Charles Croshaw's children, (five in number), held him fast until help arrived and the pig was secured.

Any idle man that want work can get it by applying at Crowbar Bros. in Malad. They have a lot of work in Malad & Ferguson's store in Oxford. Read their advertisements in the "Wanted" column.

Mr. P. O. West, our popular agent at the Depot, will leave to night for a trip to New York, and will be gone about a month and a half. His wife and family will accompany him as far as Ogden where they will spend a few days.

Mr. L. C. Morrison, for a long time the contractor on the stage line between Oxford and Soda Springs, made his last trip Saturday. Mr. Stevenson has the contract now and Bob Powers late driver between here and Malad is driving.

Dr. J. J. Dunne, one of our old druggists, in reaping the success he so well deserves in his business, which has steadily increased until now he is compelled to add another large addition of 2750 feet to his already large foundry establishment, the addition to be exclusively devoted to foundry and casting business. Dunne is a first-class workman, and our people can get any kind of iron casting done at his establishment that they may stand in need of. He is master of his business in all its details.

Mr. Williams, the contractor on the Oxford and Malad stage line, is doing a very profitable and proper thing by putting on a light two-horse back that carries four passengers comfortably, besides a small amount of baggage. He will find this the most profitable thing he could have done to situate himself in this line. Heretofore there has been no comfortable way to go to Malad by public conveyance, and travel has been directed from this route, but all travelers now will find a comfortable way (Sunday excepted) for their homes seat.

James G. Hildre is being elected a director of the Cincinnati and Ohio River railway.

THE EVENT OF THE SEASON.

A Grand Ball at the Oxford Hotel.

Early last week it was rumored that there would be a grand ball given at the Oxford Hotel, July 4th, by the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Phelan, and the rumor proved true.

On the evening of the 4th the elite of Oxford assembled in the spacious parlors of the hotel in great numbers, and enjoyed themselves during the evening with dancing, singing and eating.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelan, assisted by their daughter Mollie, received their guests in a hospital manner, and made all feel at home the moment they entered.

Dancing began at half past eight o'clock in the evening and continued until supper was announced at 10 o'clock, when all the guests dove into the ice-cream, cake, strawberries, and other delicacies that were served. After supper dancing was resumed, and kept up until 4 o'clock in the morning.

Among the guests present were the following ladies and gentlemen:
Ladies.—Mrs. Dr. House, Mrs. West, Mrs. Frank Caldwell, Mrs. W. P. Fisher, Miss May Fisher, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Joseph, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. West, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Boice, Miss Jane Hunt, Miss Mary Thornton, and Miss Nellie Strang.

Gentlemen.—Mr. W. P. Fisher, Mr. Geo. Bigelow, Dr. House, Mr. Frank Caldwell, Mr. Rufus Caldwell, Mr. Benj. L. Latta, Mr. J. D. Deffell, Mr. J. L. Latta, Mr. J. D. Deffell, Mr. West, Mr. Brown, Mr. Duddenhausen, Mr. Pratt, Mr. Boice, Mr. Ferguson, Mr. J. Rich, Mr. Latta, Mr. Deffell, Mr. D. Boice, Mr. McManama, of Gentle Valley, Mr. Beard, Mr. Hunt, and Mr. Phelan.

Miss Mollie Phelan, Miss Nellie Strang and Mr. W. Fisher, sang some beautiful songs for the benefit of the sick and convalescing.

Miss Mollie Phelan played the accompaniment on the organ. The music for the occasion was furnished by Prof. A. Barrer, Mr. Will Harris, and Mr. Johnson; they also played several solos during the evening which was greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelan deserve credit for the manner in which they entertained their guests, and looked after the wants.

MALAD CITY DEPARTMENT.

Edited by E. M. Knox. Mr. Inland returned home last week.

We were informed last week that Mrs. Dwight Peck leaving for Oxford.

Judge Crawford and Sheriff Homer, of Oxford, are spending a few days in Malad among their friends.

The new stage from here to Oxford must be quite an improvement upon the old, if it looks as anything to judge by.

The Editor-in-Chief, his wife, daughter and son, arrived in Malad Monday evening and are enjoying themselves among their friends.

During the early part of this week, Mrs. Dr. Drake returned home from Iowa, where she has been spending nearly a year perfecting herself in music.

Mr. Bohannon, of Oxford, seems to be quelling to give up his telegraph line until he has at least thoroughly sounded the Maladites. Success attend his efforts.

Mrs. Fred Hurst entertained a large number of friends at dinner, July 4th, among the number H. M. Smith, Esq., Hon. Willard Crawford, Sheriff Homer, Mrs. Berger and Mr. and Mrs. A. Straight, of the Enterprise.

The following is an itemized statement of the attendance, punctuality, and standing of the pupils of public school No. 2, Malad City, who received 90 and over during the term of fifteen weeks, closing July 31st.

Attendance—Annie Berger, 100; Emma Berger, 100; Laura Berger, 97; 97-10; Michael Vandenberg, 95; Maggie Cooper, 95; Mary Vandenberg, 94; Hugh Jones, 92-6-10; Timothy Jones, 92-6-10; Michael Berger, 92; Evan Davis, 90-6-10; Katy Jones, 90.

Punctuality—Annie Berger, 100; Emma Berger, 94; Laura Berger, 97; Alfred Harrison, 97; Ida Rubin, 96-9-10; Michael Berger, 96; Lovetta Thomas, 90.

Standing—Annie Berger, 50 1/2; Martha Thomas, 92; Katy Jones, 91 1/2; Nellie Mesrook, 91.

Enrolled—March, 78; April, 70; May, 69; June, 68. Average attendance, 67. Whole number names enrolled during the term, 90. E. M. Knox, Teacher.

Independence Day at Malad. Among the different places in Oneida county that enjoyed a general day of July celebration no place enjoyed a greater amount of patriotic fervor than the good people of Malad City.

The day came in clear and warm, with the usual fring of Chinese fire crackers and toy pistols, and with a gun-shot occasionally by way of a change. At 9 a. m. the farmers began pouring into the little garden city with flags and banners flying and bearing appropriate mottoes, while the usual small boys, mounted on his pony or tacking oxen, could be seen coming in from all directions to put in his share of the day's sports when occasion demanded.

At 11 a. m. Marshal John E. Jones, assisted by Dr. Sherman and Fred Thomas, formed the procession into line near the Co-op. store on North Main street, and the procession then moved as follows: Down South Main street to Davis avenue, back and out North Main street to Court street, down Court street to the public square, thence circling around the flag staff, and passed under a fine arch wreathed with evergreens and flowers, the motto thereon being: "Onward—Upward. Thence to the grand stand on the public square, which was erected under a large pavilion.

Among the mottoes displayed on banners, were the following: "4th of July, 'No Religion! No Politics!" "United We Stand! Divided We Fall!" "Our Idaho," and others of like import. The first wagon in the procession, drawn by four horses, contained thirty-seven young ladies dressed in white, trimmed with red and blue ribbons, and represented the different States of the Union. Seated in the center, on a raised pedestal, as the Goddess of Liberty, was Miss Emma Peck, who was dressed with her hair heretofore, by compelling the children to attend more punctually than they did during the past term.

number of buggies, the procession lengthening out a half mile. Around the stand seats were erected to comfortably seat a greater portion of those present, and on the stand sat the president of the day, Hon. Henry Peck; Hon. H. M. Smith, orator of the day; Hon. Willard Crawford, Sheriff W. H. Homer, Rev. E. M. Knox, Elder Harrison, D. B. Evans, Esq., and others.

President Peck called the audience to order, and announced music by the choir, composed of the young men and ladies of Malad, led by Wm. T. Owens, with John T. Owens at the organ. "America" was well sung. Elder Harrison then asked the Divine blessing upon all the people. Song—"The Land We Love," was then well sung by the choir, when President Peck made a few remarks. A poem, written by Joseph McMeekin, entitled "Our National Holiday," was read by Judge Crawford. [The poem arrived too late to be published in this issue, but will appear in our next.]

Another song by the choir, the Rev. E. M. Knox read. Declaration of Independence in a first-class style, after which the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung, the solo being well sung by Fred. E. Jones, the chorus by the organ. Then the orator of the day, H. M. Smith, Esq., delivered a very fine oration on "The Day We Celebrate." The oration was very timely throughout its delivery, and at the close Miss Jennie Peck sang, in charming style, the ballad, "Watching and Waiting for Me." Speeches were then made by Hon. Willard Crawford, J. A. Straight, Editor of the Enterprise, and Mr. Bywater, of Brigham City after which a song was sung by Richard Evans, closing the exercises with a chorus, "Frog Flag of the Free," sung by the choir. President Peck then dismissed the audience, announcing a dance for the children at the meeting house, to commence after dinner. In the evening a general party was held at the Court-house, at which all the elite of the city were present.

There was also a celebration at Samaria; one at Cherry Creek, and also one at St. John, where the usual good time was had.

Closing Exercises of the Malad Public School. Rev. Mr. Knox and his excellent wife closed their first term of school at Malad City with an examination of their scholars and a public exhibition, Monday evening, which was well attended by the children's parents and the good citizens of Malad. Following is the programme of exercises as rendered by the scholars:

Opening exercises, reading scripture prayers; singing song, America, Part I.—Recitation—Ida Rubin; Laura Berger, Mary Good, Lizzie Shivers, Charlie Kozza, Walter Peck, Martha Nicholas, Annie Jones, Willie Jones, Corretta Thomas, Johnny Jones, Evan Davis, Annie Phillips and Reese Jones. Select Readings.—Song—Flag of the Free. Part II.—Dialogue—Subject: Ten Dollars; by Mr. E. M. Knox and Judge Morgan. Remarks.—By Prof. Knox and Hon. J. W. Morgan: Distribution of prizes and cards.—Closing Song.—Parting Hymn.

The Editor of the Enterprise feels that something in the way of praise is due to the teachers as well as to the scholars for the very excellent manner in which all the recitations and dialogues were spoken, considering that this was the first effort toward an exhibition that had ever been undertaken by any of the scholars, and as a matter of course they felt much embarrassment before so large an audience was present.

We believe the parents will properly appreciate the efforts that have been made by Prof. and Mrs. Knox to teach a good school, and that should they hereafter be further identified with the public schools of Malad City, they will hold up their hands more generously than they have done heretofore, by compelling the children to attend more punctually than they did during the past term.

BRIEFS. The New York Herald has obtained a judgment of $18,000 against that city for advertising.

Robert Patterson was nominated by the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention for Governor.

The Jewish refugees who have arrived in New York are said to be a shifty and ungrateful crowd.

Denver has been selected as the place of the next meeting of the G. A. E., in September, 1883.

The Duke of Edinburgh narrowly escaped drowning last week, while out with a fishing party at Bayonne, France.

Luke P. Blackburn, Governor of Kentucky, has been converted, and was confirmed in the Christian faith Sunday last.

The jury in the Malley trial, at New Haven, Conn., for the murder of James Cramer, brought in a verdict of "guilty."

General Sherman contemplates a general court martial for three or four army officers who applied for military details through members of Congress instead of through their common superiors.

A tidal wave on Lake Erie swept over the lake front at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 23d ult., and damaged property to the amount of $30,000; vessels parted from their lines at the mouth of the river. The piers and docks were submerged to the depth of four feet, and hundreds of fish were cast ashore. Two men were drowned. The live sailing station was badly wrecked and considerable other damage done. The wave lasted about one hour.

Mining Items. Five counties in California contain gold silver mines.

Colorado will exhibit a gold brick at the Exposition worth $675,000. Art's sends one specimen to the exposition weighing seven tons.

The names of all exhibitors will appear in the official catalogue of the Denver Exposition.

The Mexican Government offers $5,000 to the person who first discovers good coal in Mexico.

Seventy gold mines are at work in Georgia. The belt in which the mines are said to exist is expected to produce this year $3,000,000 worth of gold. Good gold veins assay from $5 to $50 per ton.

The Virginia City Enterprise remarks: Denver is the best city in the Union for the exhibition, the most easily accessible, and for many reasons the most pleasant city to visit west of the Mississippi. Investors from the East by the thousands will be present at the display and will look to it as a guide. The opportunity should not be neglected to advertise our vast mineral resources and give our products the prominence which they will be entitled to on this occasion.

Jottings. An old lady wants to know what it means by "mean time." Our watch keeps it.

A young lady of the highest and strictest principles returned a new watch to a jeweler because it happened to be a little fast.

"I am astonished," my dear young lady, at your sentiments—you make me start. "Well sir, I've been waiting for you to start for the last hour."

"Ask no woman her age," says a recent writer on social ethics: Of friend she will never fail to give the information.

"Mr. Smith," said a lady at a fair, "won't you please buy this tongue to present to the lady you love?" "It wouldn't be right," said Mr. Smith, "I'm a married man."

A pair of jerebed garters sold in New York the other day for $2,000. That's pretty high. It will take a pretty tall girl to wear garters that come as high as that.

A young lady at an examination in grammar was asked "by the noun bachelor was singular." She replied immediately, "Because it is very singular they don't get married."

Ella Dean, aged seventeen, lost eighty feet from Eagle Rock, Orange Mountain, N. J., and was not seriously hurt. These patent air buxies do ease up a fall wonderfully.

Small Fox. While at present there is no cause for alarm, yet our people should use proper precautions to prevent the spread of small pox. It was reported early this week that several cases of small-pox had been discovered among the graders on the Oregon Short Line near Pocatello and that a great many of the men had been alarmed and were leaving the grading camps along the line. The contractors deny that there is any small pox among the workmen, but say they is a few cases of measles, and that some one mistook the measles for small-pox. The contractors think that the person or persons who reported it, done so maliciously, on account of some grievance that they had stored up. But it is well to be careful.

"What are the worst results of the civil war?" cried an orator. "Widows!" shouted Jones, who had married one.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

In an accident, near Long Branch, on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, Thursday last, about one hundred persons were injured and quite a number killed. Ex-President Grant was on the train and in the smoking-car when the accident occurred, and was pulled out of the wreck, slightly injured, by the driver of the engine; a son of Commodore Garrison, was terribly hurt in the chest and had both legs broken; T. H. Raymond, superintendent, collar-bone broken; Geo. P. Blanchard, vice-president of the New York, Lake Erie and Western road, slightly injured; T. J. Brown, superintendent of the Erie road, badly hurt; President Gallaway, of the elevated road, slightly injured. A number of the injured will die. The cause of the accident was carelessness, as the track was not properly spiked, and spread when the wheels struck it.

A REAL NECESSITY.

We presume there is hardly a lady to be found in our broad land who, if she does not already possess a sewing machine, wishes some day to become the owner of one. The household of a young wife is now considered incomplete without a sewing machine. Next to her lover, the thought uppermost in the mind of the young maiden just blossoming into womanhood is to have a sewing machine. When asked by her parents or affianced what her Christmas or birthday present shall be, the answer is in the majority of cases "A sewing machine."
