DEDICATION

To the Senior Class of '48 we proudly dedicate this yearbook with the hope that it will long be a cherished memory to them. As they leave Malad High and go into the various walks of life we hope that they will meet with much success and happiness at whatever they do. We trust that they in the near future will look back to their high school days as days of joy and satisfaction.

With their friendship and love in our hearts we are happy to dedicate this, the 1948 MIRROR, to one of the best Senior Classes of all times.

FOREWORD

Since the beginning of time man has had sweet memories. But at first he had but a clay wall or brick on which to record his joy. As time went on new and better ways were found to record his friends and things to remember. One of these is the printed page with its rich collection of memories and past experiences. May this Mirror reflect to you the joy and contentment of your high school days.

ADMINISTRATION

OUR SUPERINTENDENT

Karl G. Maeser

The importance of a well-rounded education gains added significance in the lives of all high school students as our nation moves into the role of world leadership and faces the ideological conflict with non-democratic forces.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Chairman: Lawrence R. Budge, Hugh M. Griffiths,
Thomas D. Evans, William O. Howard, Morgan W.
Tovey, V. P. Garst. Clerk: James B. Jones.

OUR PRINCIPAL

Ralph W. Harding

I trust the memories which this Mirror provides will be a source of pleasure to all and it is my sincere hope that the efforts of our Faculty, School Board and Parents to prepare our young people to more successfully meet the problems of life shall not have been in vain.

"My home is my castle" the poet hath said,
And nobody cares to deny it;
But that castle, it seems, may be built in your dreams
If only you're willing to try it.

There's a royal robe for the king on his throne,
By right it was his to inherit;
But a crown, so it seems, may be had in your dreams
If only you're willing to wear it.

Subject or slave at the feet of the king—
Position is just what you make it;
But the world, as it seems, may be yours in your dreams
If only you're willing to take it.

SENIORS

In the valley, amongst the foothills,
 In the famous town of Malad,
 The mighty leader of the students
 He the Big Chief of our High School;
 Stood and called his clan together.
 Called the Juniors of this high school,
 Called them that they might their rulers,
 Choose from those among their number.
 So they chose for chief John Tovey

and to fill his place when absent,
 Chose Leoneore Crowther for chief assistant.
 Gayle Hill took their money,
 and she also took their minutes.
 Now they go, and each departing,
 Thinks with sorrow of their leaving,
 Their high school days behind them,
 and the good old Junior Class.

School days, school days
Where we strive to reach a goal,
Working hard together
To gain the honor roll,
Initiating freshmen,
Pretending to be smart,
When all the time their interest
Is closest to our hearts.

There are no words that can describe us,
So I'll close this little rhyme
Hoping that you'll remember us as
The greatest Sophomores of all time.

FOOTBALL

Through the very capable coaching of Earl Johnson and Jack Williams, the Malad Dragons turned out a very successful and victorious football season by winning four out of seven games and placing second in the District.

The team with the assistance of the regulars from last year were a rugged and smooth working outfit. And as the season ended this is how it stood:

SCHEDULE

OPPONENTS	WE	THEY
Bear River	0	13
Alumni	8	0
Paris	25	0
Preston	0	0
North Cache	13	20
Montpelier	0	6
Downey	27	7
Blackfoot	31	0

A SQUAD

The Dragon team of 1947-48 proved to be the most "unpredictable team" in the District. Starting out slowly, the Dragons showed their colors when most needed by eliminating more teams than any other team in the District Tournament. The Dragons stayed in to the last and played in the semi-final game, losing in what proved to be a hard fought game, and placing third in the District.
